

Theme : Knowledge, Belief, and Normativity
Connaissance, croyance et normativité

Organizer : Yves Bouchard (Université de Sherbrooke)

Speakers :

Daniel Laurier (Université de Montréal)
Title : Truth, Guidance and the normativity of Rationality

Murray Clarke (Concordia University)
Title : Concepts, Intuitions, and Epistemic Norms

David Matheson (Carleton University)
Title : The Virtue of Normativity and the Normativity of Virtue

Yves Bouchard (Université de Sherbrooke)
Title : Knowledge and Contextual Normativity

Franck Lihoreau (New University of Lisbon)
Title : From World to Mind: Naturalizing the Norms of Perception

Knowledge, Belief, and Normativity

This symposium in contemporary epistemology will address the issue of epistemic normativity from the point of view of its sources and its different modalities. The qualification of knowledge will be analyzed in terms of normative and epistemic notions such as rationality, truth, concept, intuition, perception, virtue and context.

Connaissance, croyance et normativité

Ce symposium traitera de la question de la normativité épistémique du point de vue de ses sources et de ses différentes modalités. La qualification de la connaissance sera analysée au moyen de notions normatives et épistémiques telles que rationalité, vérité, concept, intuition, perception, vertu et contexte.